

GUEST LECTURE ON “FUNGAL DISEASES OF SKIN” AT A.M.SHAIKH
HOMOEOPATHIC MEDICAL COLLEGE, PG & RESEARCH CENTRE

A.M.Shaikh Homoeopathic Medical College, PG & Research Centre organized a guest lecture on “Fungal Diseases of Skin”. The guest speaker on this occasion was Dr. Shivkumar Patil from, JNMC, Belgavi. The lecture was organized by Department of Practice of Medicine.

Addressing the gathering Dr. Shivkumar patil explained different types of fungi and other causes of fungal skin infection. He highlighted on side effects of steroidal ointments, drug induced aggravation of fungi. He said fungal infection is usually caused by the growth and accumulation of the harmful fungi in a particular part of the body or organ of the body.

Dr. Nadaf said Homoeopathy is the holistic system of medicine that treats the problem from roots. It is very effective in treating painful symptoms of skin condition such as acne, eczema. He highlighted on the role played by Homoeopathy in these existing resistant cases of fungal infections.

The lecture was witnessed by all the UG & PG students, faculty and staff. The event was coordinated by Dr Jyoti Vijaykumar, HOD, Practice of Medicine and supported by Dr. Girish Moogi, Principal, A.M.Shaikh Homoeopathic Medical College, PG & Research Centre.