

SEMINAR ON BEHAVIOUR

Dr. Abdul Khadar presented a seminar on Behavioral problems. He spoke about the harmful effects of the same. He said that Children's emotional and life challenges can create problem behaviors that may seem complex, but when a student's acts are charted correctly, educators can discover the appropriate intervention to modify the problem behavior.

Sometimes when we're angry, there are other emotions hidden below the surface. Learning to recognize when anger isn't really what we're feeling is important for helping us identify and cope with our emotions, he said.