

A. M. SHAIKH HOMEOPATHIC MEDICAL COLLEGE STUDENTS EXCEL AT NATIONAL HOMEOPATHIC CONFERENCE HELD AT NEW DELHI

We the Management, Director, staff and students at A M Shaikh Homoeopathic Medical College and PG research Centre are delighted to inform that the research paper submitted by our two student researchers has been awarded at the National Homeopathic Conference WHD-2024, New Delhi. This achievement is a testament to their hard work, dedication, and expertise in the field of homeopathic medicine.

The papers titled

1. Survey to assess the level of activity in primary school going children (aged 6-10years) in correlation to Borlands children types. By Zubiya Athani under guidance of Dr. Alok Katkol
2. Invitro study to know the antibacterial activity of Homeopathic medicine Pyrogenum and Anthracinum VS Cefipime (Control) against streptococcus pyogens and Staphylococcus aureus of cellulitis-by KhatijataulKubra Bojgar under guidance of Dr. Premalata Rotti were selected for its innovative approach, rigorous methodology, and significant contribution to the advancement of homeopathic research. It reflects the high standards of academic excellence upheld by our institution and showcases the talent and potential of our students.

We whole heartedly congratulate Zubiya Athani and KhatijataulKubra Bojgar and their guides Dr. Alok Katkol and Dr. Premalata Rotti for this outstanding accomplishment. Their dedication to exploring new avenues in homeopathic medicine and their commitment to scientific inquiry are truly commendable.

This award not only highlights the excellence of our students but also underscores the strength of our academic programs and research initiatives. It is a proud moment for our institution and reaffirms our commitment to fostering academic excellence and innovation.

