“A. M. SHAIKH HOMOEOPATHIC MEDICAL COLLEGE, CONDUCTED GUEST LECTURE ON SOCIAL OBSTETRICS,”

The Department of Community Medicine at A. M. Shaikh Homoeopathic Medical College, Belagavi, organized an informative guest lecture on "Social Obstetrics" to enhance students' understanding of maternal and child healthcare from a community health perspective. The session was delivered by Dr. Ashwini L. Chingale, Assistant Professor, Department of Community Medicine, BIMS, who emphasized the importance of social obstetrics in addressing maternal and child health issues through preventive and community-based approaches. She also created awareness about various National Health Programmes related to maternal and child healthcare, highlighting their objectives, implementation strategies, and role in improving public health outcomes. The programme was effectively anchored by Ms. Ruksar Shaikh, while the vote of thanks was delivered by Ms. Iairi K. The event was organized under the guidance of Dr. Susmit S. V. and Dr. Usha Chavan, with the support of Dr. V. R. Kulkarni, Department of Community Medicine, making it an enriching academic session for all participants.
